GRANT HOWARD EVIDENCE HEARD

Will Receive All That is Coming to Him.

Very Much Doing in the Local City Police Court Today.

INTERESTING EVIDENCE HEARD

It is evident from Judge Sanders' preliminary remarks this morning that Grant Howard, colored, will get all that is coming to him on the charge of inhuman treatment to his 10 year old child. The evidence was partly heard yesterday, and in some instances was very amusing.

Howard himself did not deny the allegations. He claimed, however, that hanging children up and smoking them in that manner was a common custom among the colored people, especially in North and South Carolina, and that he meant only to punish the child. The immediate cause of the corrections, he declared, was the fact that the diminutive darkey who looks something like a small ape, tied a dog to a cow's tail. At last accounts neither the dog nor the cow had been found.

The child, when first placed in the sack and hung up in the barn, kicked out, and his father then decided he would have to tie his hands and feet, and did so. He went back to take him down and found him gone. He swore that there was nothing but corn cobs and a piece of pine in an old pot as a fire.

The boy said the fire did not burn him, but that the smoke hurt his eyes and nose.

Milton Brooks, a well known local colored man, testified that smoking children was not an uncommon practice as a punishment among colored people. He said he had been smoked when young, at one time being secured in the fire place while the operation was being performed. It is understood others in the city may go up Monday and make oath to the same thing.

Howard however, is likely to have a severe penalty imposed. Judge Sanders said this morning that no matter if it was a custom among the negroes years ago to smoke children that it was barbarous and inhuman, and that such punishment now was out of keeping with modern times.

The court said that all boys were more or less bad, but that they didn't deserve to be treated brutally. He said as to Brooks, that he may have been smoked as he said, but that he didn't look very much like a ham or a hog jowl yet, although the chances are that the Howard boy would, had he remained in the barn a little longer.

He said there was some other evidence he desired to hear, and would render his decision on Monday morning.

Zach Crummel, a Trigg county negro who was arrested in the railroad yards with a pistol concealed on his person, was fined $50 and costs and given 10 days in jail.

Lizzie Ayers, colored, was fined $5 and costs for throwing stones at Jesse Stovall, colored. She claimed the latter asked another girl why she spoke to "dat niggah," and alluded to her as a "louse box."

Snake Wade was fined $20 and costs for attempting to cut Arthur Salmick, bartender at the Marcoffs' saloon two weeks ago. The bartender claimed that "Snake" came in and refused to pay for three glasses of beer he bought, and when an argument arose chased him until he got upstairs and got his pistol from under the head of his bed.

The case against Frank Arbuckle, the white man charged with stealing two umbrellas and a brass cannon from Former Officer Buck Whitehurst's was left open. He claimed he was given the cannon for mending umbrellas. This was denied.

THE SPECIAL TERM IS SUCCESSFUL

There Have Been About a Dozen in One Week.

Several Got Sentences Today—Five Years For Charles Harris For Setting Fire to Lockup.

LON FUQUA WANTS NEW TRIAL

Judge W. M. Reed today wound up one of the busiest weeks ever held in circuit court. There have been about a dozen convictions, as many as heretofore during the whole three weeks term of circuit court.

John Mann, white, who was yesterday tried for robbing Jim Rogers of his watch, was given two years in the penitentiary. He was accused of having committed the robbery with the assistance of Jimmie Taylor who will be tried next week.

Charles Harris, colored, who set fire to the city lockup was given five years in the penitentiary for arson.

John Underwood, colored, charged with cutting Charles Robertson, was acquitted of the charge of malicious cutting.

John Perry, who was accused of stealing a watch, was allowed to plead guilty to petty larceny and was sentenced six months in the county jail. The watch seemed to have been misplaced in some way and it was therefore impossible to determine whether it was worth $20 or more, the necessary value to constitute a charge of grand larceny.

Robert Fields, colored, charged with burning Henderson Owen's house, was this morning acquitted of the charge.

A motion for a new trial in the case against Lon Fuqua, colored, charged with assisting in the murder of George Gray, and yesterday sentenced to life imprisonment, was made this morning.

This port is the greatest iron and coal deposit in the world. With Germany in possession of Manchuria, the rest of China will prove an easy victim. The division of the remaining territory will probably involve the nations of Europe in a war the like of which this world has never known."

IS NO LONGER THE CHAMPION

Young Corbett Lost the Decision Last Night.

James Britt Won in the Twentieth Round After Hard Fighting.

WAS WINNER ALL THROUGH

San Francisco, March 26.—James Britt, of California was given the decision last night over Wm. Rothwell, better known as "Young Corbett" of Colorado, in a twenty round contest at Woodward's Pavilion.

Up to the seventeenth round Corbett's advantage was apparent, but in that round Britt rallied and rained right and left blows on various portions of Corbett's anatomy, forcing the champion to clinch to save himself.

The styles of the two boxers were entirely distinctive. Britt fought for the body most of the time, while Corbett devoted his attack to the head, face and jaw. Britt weighed just 139 pounds, but Corbett's weight was not made public, though it is understood he was at least a pound and a half below the agreed weight, 150 pounds.

Both men fought hard in every round. Britt, in his crouching attitude, was able to guard his stomach effectively, though Corbett was able to land hard on his head and jaw. In the first few rounds Britt found the Denver man's stomach repeatedly, though his blows lacked steam. Corbett was never in danger of being knocked out.

It was without doubt the greatest fight fought in California. Britt's ability to assimilate punishment and his endurance were simply marvelous. At no time during the twenty rounds did Britt break ground. He always brought the fight to Corbett, who was breaking ground and clinching most of the time. Britt was heavily punished yet was at all times willing to take more, and finally outgamed the champion.

San Francisco was fight mad. Wild scenes were enacted at Woodward's pavilion. The climax was reached when the doors of the newly remodeled pavilion were thrown open to the public. Since this morning a vast throng had stood in line awaiting the sale of general admission tickets. By nightfall the line contained thousands and extended for several blocks in either direction. Mounted policemen were compelled to use their clubs, and at times they were swept aside like so much chaff before the wind. When the bell summoned the principles in the main event to the center of the ring, there were about 80,000 people in attendance and an equal number outside.

The club officials stated that the receipts would total about $50,000 the greatest amount ever contested for by fighters of Corbett's and Britt's calibre.

There was little change in the betting situation. Corbett was as pronounced favorite at odds which fluctuated from 10 to 6 to 10 to 5.

Corbett weighed $2,500 against $1,500 that he would be returned the winner, while Britt placed $500 against $900 on his own chances.

At 9:00 "Young Corbett" was the first to enter the ring. He was clad in a blue and white sweater and had both hands bandaged.

Britt was accorded an ovation which lasted several minutes.

Referee Gray entered the ring and after shaking hands with both men, brought them to the center of the ring and gave them their instructions.

It was announced that the fight would be a twenty round contest, and Marquis of Queensberry rules, the men to break by order of the referee.

Corbett's seconds were Harry Tutbill, Tim McGrath and S. Otis. Britt was looked after by "Spider" Kelly, Frank Rafael and Curt Richardson. Eddie Braney was the referee.

ABOUT THE CARNIVAL

Executive Committee Picks the Location for Spring Festival.

It will be at Twelfth and Trimble streets on Circus Grounds.

NO MEETING LAST NIGHT.

The executive committee of the Paducah Carnival Association has decided to hold Paducah's spring carnival this year on the vacant ground at Twelfth and Trimble streets. One reason this site was selected is that it is on both street car lines, and it will be much easier to handle people to it than anywhere else.

Since the old carnival grounds at Ninth and Broadway were taken up by the new public library, it has become necessary to hold the carnivals farther out in the city. The Red Men last fall held theirs on West Broadway, but persons living on the Rowlandtown or depot car lines had to pay two fares and change cars, to get there.

The location of the ground at Twelfth and Trimble will enable persons residing in any part of the city to ride there for one fare.

The entrance will be near the intersection of the streets, and there is ample ground. The property belongs to Messrs. T. C. Leach and Ed Ashbrook.

The committee has announced that merchants who make a display on Exhibit street, may also sell their goods if they desire, which will be an additional advantage. The committee was to have held a meeting last night, but all could not attend, and as a result adjourned until Monday night.

PERISHED FROM COLD

AMERICAN MAGAZINE EDITOR DIED IN LABRADOR.

Williamstown, Mass., March 26.—The reports of the death of Leonidas Hubbard, Jr., assistant editor of an American magazine, while on an exploring expedition in Labrador, were confirmed today by a letter received by relatives of A. Dillon Wallace, a former Williamstown man, who is the surviving white man of the party. The letter was written by Wallace at Northwest river in December, nearly two months after the death of Hubbard and it tells of his death and of the narrow escape of Wallace. While in the deep interior Hubbard's strength failed him and the party started back, hoping to reach provisions. When Hubbard could go no further Wallace and George, the Indian guide, made him comfortable and went on for provisions and assistance. Wallace found a quantity of flour which the party left on its way about twelve miles from the place where Hubbard was left, and started back with it, while George went forty miles beyond to find a party of trappers. On the return trip Wallace lost his way in the deep snow and was near death and out of his mind when found by George's party. Wallace soon regained his strength, but Hubbard died the same day.

HEAVY RAINS

OCCASION CONSIDERABLE TROUBLE TO L. C. PASSENGER TRAINS.

The L. C. passenger trains over the Cairo extension experienced great trouble last night from the heavy rains. The water in many places covered the tracks and prevented the trains from going any further. They were laid out for some time. This morning the train due at 7:50 was delayed but a short time. The trouble was not due to washouts as the tracks were impaired but little by the rains, but from overflows.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

A stag dinner was given by Mr. Charles Sugars Tuesday night at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sugars, on North Sixth street in honor of his twenty-second birthday.

The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the dining room being a symphony in pink and green. Artistically arranged about the room were potted palms and ferns. In the center of the table was a silver candelabra in which were pink candles with green shades and at each end the same effect was carried out. Covers were laid for sixteen. A unique feature were the "place cards" hand painted with pink wild roses, tied with pink moire ribbon and so arranged that the white table linen gave a beautiful effect.

An interesting debate on the Russo-Japan war was given by the Epworth league of the Broadway Methodist church at the church Tuesday evening. The affirmative side represented by Dr. Vernon Blythe and Attorney Alben Barkley, won. The negative side was represented by Prof. Surg and Mr. Wilson.

The sum of $200 was realized from the testimonial concert given by some of Prof. Charles M. Davis' musical friends for his benefit Tuesday evening at Temple Israel. The program was attractive.

Hummel, Henry Kamolter, Jesse Gilbert, George Wolfe, Frank Gardner, Jeff Read, Misses Louise Kirchoff, Louise Rotgering, Bertha Mertz and Mary Berger.

DAILY THOUGHT.

"A worry may be either a stumbling block or a stepping stone in our spiritual life, as we choose. In itself, it is but a bit of material, and all depends upon what use we make of it."

THE WEATHER.

Fair and colder tonight. Sunday fair.

The work of making up such a paper as The Sun sends out today is anything but a "small job" even to a first class establishment. There is a rush and crush of work which unavoidably begets more or less evils. Some aggravating ones occur in this issue, and these The Sun would hasten to correct, not that it thinks the reader would be misled but in justice to those concerned. A particularly grievous error appears in the last paragraph of the page advertisement of Messrs.
Given, Clark & Co., the omission of the word "only" making the announcement just the reverse of what the writer of the article clearly intended to say. Another error is in the article "Concerning The Sun," the date of the establishment of the paper being as 1879 instead of 1896. Though these mistakes are so apparent as to be harmless they are regretted, and by the paper more than any one else.

THE BANK QUESTION.

The state banks of Kentucky seem to have the best wishes of everybody in their efforts to defeat the suits brought against them by the so-called auditor's agent for back taxes on deposits. Here is a section of an opinion of the court of appeals rendered by Judge Paynter in a case from Davies county, which seems to be very plain:

"The banks are not required to pay a tax on money deposited by customers or the amounts which they represent. Owing to the particular character of the business which they conduct, they are quasi trustees of their depositors and their customers. The banks would be required to pay taxes on their capital shares, surplus funds, undivided profits, franchises and real estate."

It is too clear for discussion or argument that the principal object in bringing these suits against the state banks, was to take advantage of the possibility of getting a judgment and thus securing a fat commission. The suits were not calculated to help the Women Rejoice in Health and Beauty.

Zoa Phora Gives Perfect Health and Health Means Beauty for Wom-

Wonderful Work.

Trial Bottle Free to Every Woman.

There is only one thing for a weak and suffering woman to do and that is to use Zoa Phora.
It makes no difference how many remedies you have tried or how many doctors have treated you that failed, Zoa Phora cures these cases one and all. Thousands upon thousands of letters from suffering women throughout the land prove this, so that none can fail to be convinced. It is the greatest blessing of the age for suffering women. It cures all irregularities, displacements, painful and suppressed periods, makes childbirth easy, cures liver, bladder and kidney troubles and regulates the change of life. It will bring joy and health and happiness to any suffering woman just as it has always done and never failed to do.

Miss Florabel Blessing, 219 W. Lincoln St., Kokomo, Ind., says: "I can truly say that Zoa Phora has completely cured me of my awful suffering. I am perfectly regular now and I don't suffer at all at that time. I do not have ovarian pain any more, and the leucorrhea has entirely disappeared. I feel better now than I have in four years, and I know that it was Zoa Phora that cured me, and it will cure others likewise, because I know that nobody can suffer any more than I did, for I suffered death over and over. I would not be without Zoa Phora, for it is indeed 'Woman's Friend.'"

"I will say that whoever doesn't believe Zoa Phora is a good medicine for women to take,
they don't know what they are talking about,
and whoever doesn't believe this statement, let them please write to me and I will certainly tell them the same, if they will send addressed stamped envelope. I will answer any one who wants to write and find out if it is so.

"You can use my name in any way that will help you with your medicine, and I will be glad to have you do so."
Write the Zoa Phora Co., Kalamazoo, Mich.,

trated medical book, "Dr. Penzley's Advice state, the people, or the state banks, whatever their result, or the motive that prompted the filing of them. In fact, they might have done great harm.

Lawyers should be familiar with law and decisions of the court of appeals before filing such suits. In view of the above ruling, it is difficult to understand what possible excuse there could be for the filing of these suits."

According to an article apparently inspired by the local administration, which is trying to cover up the incompetency of some of its officials, the city has for a year or more past been swindling everybody who has had anything weighed on the city scales.
A so-called expert says that the scales have not weighed correctly for a year.
How he could tell they had been out of order a year is one of those things that are mysterious to all but the administration. If he knew it a year ago, or if anyone else knew it, he should have said so, and had them repaired. If the city has let the scales go for a year in such a condition that everybody who had anything weighed on them had it weighed wrong, everybody is entitled to damages who has had anything weighed on the scales during that time, provided, of course, that it can be proven by the "experts" that the scales were in this condition a whole year. Some of the patrons of the scales, however, do not take much stock in this version.
They assign different reasons for quitting the city scales, and the mayor knows the reasons.

Just as soon as you have read today's issue of The Sun to your satisfaction you should place it in a wrapper and mail it to some relative or friend elsewhere. All the main facts contained in the paper are known to you and to an extent are uninteresting, but the outside world is not so well informed, you must not forget.
The main object in "getting up" the paper was to advertise and benefit Paducah, and the quickest and best results will come through a wide circulation of the issue, of course, and you can lend yourself to this good work in the way suggested. A good wrapper can easily be made by splitting the ends of an envelope and a two cent stamp will make the delivery of the paper certain. Help Paducah and yourself in this way and also please a friend by such a slight remembrance.

In Colorado they have martial law in two counties, but no property is reported destroyed, and no men are prevented from working. All this hurrah raised about the governor of a state sending troops to quell riots and other disorders, whether real or imaginary, is uncalled for. Those who obey the law and attend to their own business will have no cause to complain. Those who try to violate the law and destroy property that does not belong to them, have no right to complain at anything that may be done to protect law-abiding citizens. One thing is always certain in such cases, and that is that the law abiding citizens are never in any danger.

Attention is called to the observations of a subscriber on the cruel and demoralizing treatment of dogs in Paducah. There appears to be considerable truth in the communication. It is revolting to think

HOUSE BLOWN DOWN

Frame Tenement at 4th and Husbands Suffers.

High Winds Take it Off its Foundation—No One Hurt.

LITTLE DAMAGE FROM STORMS

A frame double tenement house belonging to Joe Hughes, near Fourth and Husbands street, was blown off its "stilts" last night during the high winds, but fortunately no one was in it, and no one was hurt.

It was on the side of a hollow, and the foundation consisted of timbers twelve or eighteen feet high. It had just been built, and was turned completely over by the wind, but is not much damaged. When replaced and established on a firmer foundation, it is believed that it will be better than formerly.

A family, it is understood, had just rented the place, but had not moved in. Had anyone been in it there would doubtless have been fatal results to the accident.

The wind came up last night early after supper, and the rainfall was one inch and 36 hundredths up to the cessation.

There is no damage reported anywhere, as everything had been secured or placed out of danger.

It was reported on the streets this morning that Joppa and Brookport river property suffered greatly in last night's storm, but advices from those towns this morning deny the report.

The winds were heavy at both places but nothing serious was done in the way of damage. A few barges and other river property were blown about the harbor, but the watchmen and river men succeeded in making everything fast before the storm did any damage.

Those who have fondly believed

She will thus be able to hold both her

Seven Years—Five Days.

I suffered for nearly seven years with female weakness, caused by falling of the womb.
My head ached until I was unable to attend to my duties, had pains in the small of the back and pelvic organs until at times I went nearly wild. I used one kind of a medicine after another, but none did me the least bit of good until I used Wine of Cardui. When I began using it I was so weak that I could hardly walk, but within five days my strength began to return, the pains decreased and I was able to sleep.
I used nineteen bottles before I was entirely cured, but I am today as strong and well as anyone could desire to be and most grateful to you for your good medicine.
Helen Peterson
WORTHY CHAPLAIN, INDEPENDENT ORDER OF GOOD TEMPLARS.

WINE OF CARDUI

Mrs. Peterson suffered bearing down pains and blinding headaches for seven long years. Wine of Cardui helped her in five days.
During all these years Wine of Cardui was curing hundreds of thousands of other women of these same bearing down pains and freeing them from those same maddening headaches. It was curing the worst menstrual irregularities. It was giving blessed health to thousands of sufferers all around Mrs. Peterson. But she continued to try other remedies with no relief. It took seven long years of those bearing down pains and maddening headaches to bring Mrs. Peterson to try Wine of Cardui. Then Wine of Cardui cured her. The benefit began in five days.
You are suffering like Mrs. Peterson suffered. You are neglecting Wine of Cardui like she neglected it; and just as surely as she was cured you can be cured by Wine of Cardui. All druggists sell $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.

CHICKEN AND DUMPLINGS FOR LUNCH AT 100 BROADWAY TONIGHT. JAMES M'NULTY, PROP.

A NEW PROFESSION.

The plan of the city administration to obtain the dog license by offering 25c for each dog delivered, is the incentive for every boy to become nothing more than a thief, under protection of the law. Well dressed boys are remaining out of school to thus gain a quarter, even going so far as to remove the tags on licensed dogs. We should like to see the result of this noble precept in after years. On all sides is heard the protest about the exorbitant dog tax. Is a man earning $1.25 perhaps less per day able to pay $3.30 to $5.50 tax on a pet which perhaps is the only enjoyment the children have at home?

Many people keep a dog for protection from thieves, so the overworked policemen may be spared, or per chance Towser can hold the thief for several days to give officers time to arrive on the scene, and in this case would be more than willing to pay a reasonable tax. But all we can do, is to watch young America's training in theft at 25c per, and teach him to murmur "Thou shalt not steal."

SUNDAY SERVICES IN CITY CHURCHES

Palm Sunday Commemorated at St. Francis de Sales.

Confirmation Services at Evangelical Lutheran Church—Series of Addresses at Y. M. C. A.

OTHER RELIGIOUS NEWS.

Palm Sunday will be observed tomorrow by Catholics all over the world, and will be appropriately commemorated at St. Francis de Sales' church of this city.

Palms will be distributed in the congregation before high mass at 10:30
a. m. The mass will be celebrated with special music. The palms distributed last year are burned and the entire ceremony is impressive. The fresh palms are preserved by the communicants as typical of divine protection for their households. Next year they will be burned and replaced by fresh ones as this year. The feast is a memorial of Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem, before his crucifixion.

The officers and teachers of the Sunday school of the First Cumberland Presbyterian church met in the parlor of mause, on Thursday night, and discussed the interests of the work. The school has been growing of late and the workers are very much encouraged. At the close of the council meeting light refreshments were served.

The Ladies Bible class which the pastor has been requested to conduct on Friday afternoons, will begin on April 1st, and all ladies are invited to become members. The class will meet at 3 p. m. and devoted twenty minutes to the study of the Bible by books; after which, twenty minutes will be devoted to the Sunday school lesson for the following Sunday; and if desired, followed by a twenty minutes normal lesson. This class will be open to members of all the churches in the city, who desire to be led in popular Bible study by an experienced teacher.

The Ladies' Aid Society will meet with Mrs. N. L. Iseman, 402 Washington street, on Monday at 3 p. m.

The leaders of the various circles of the Woman's Guild of the First C. P. church met on last Friday and elected the following officers: President, Mrs. T. H. Givens; Vice President, Mrs. J. D. Lassiter; Secretary, Mrs.
W. L. Miller; Treasurer, Mrs. G. P.
Weller. The leaders of the circles are as follows: First, Mrs. F. A. Adams; Second, Mrs. A. Kerth; Third, Mrs. W. L. Miller; Fourth, Mrs. A.
L. Lassiter; Fifth, Mrs. J. R. Province; Sixth, Mrs. H. S. Thixton.

Four of the practical problems of modern young men will be discussed at the Y. M. C. A. the next four Sunday afternoons at 3:30 p. m. W. P.
Hamilton will be the leader throughout.

For tomorrow the problem will be
"The Double Standard—Is It Right?"

These will be discussions rather than addresses and full opportunity will be given for questions and comments.

There will be confirmation services at the Evangelical Lutheran church on South Fourth street tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. A class of four will be confirmed. They are: Earl Leisner, Harry Unrath, Selma Pieper and Josephine Bundesmann.

READY FOR THE LEAGUE MEETING

Manager Jackson and Others go to Hopkinsville Tomorrow.

All Clubs But Jackson to be Reprsented in Person—May be a $250 Forfeit.

PADUCAH PLAYERS COMING

There will be a K. I. T. league meeting in Hopkinsville tomorrow morning for the purpose of effecting the organization of the league for this season, and every city in the league last year will be represented either by an individual or by proxy.

President Irvin Thompson, Secretary Farnsbaker and Mr. Sam Jackson, owner of the Paducah team, will meet here tonight and will go to Hopkinsville in order to be there in plenty of time. Manager G. S. Gorman has written to Mr. Jackson asking him to represent Jackson, Tenn., at the meeting and this is the only city known that will not have some one in person from the town to look after its interests.

Manager Gorman emphasized the necessity of a $250 forfeit deposit for good faith in sticking through the season, and stated further more that Jackson would be to the front with a pennant winning team. It is understood that Sunday baseball will be allowed in Jackson this summer, and this will enable the baseball men to finish the season with a little profit.

Manager Jackson will Monday send tickets to his men and order them to report here at once. As soon as the team is straightened out, the men reserved for the regular team will be played against the men who were rejected, and what local players want to participate in the game.

The service which will be very impressive will be conducted by Rev. J.
H. Rupprecht, pastor of the church.
The Sunday school tomorrow will be from 9 to 9:45 a. m.

Tenth street Christian church services: Sunday school at 9:30 a. m.
Important to have full attendance.

present for conference regarding a protracted meeting to begin May 1st.
Christian Endeavor at 8:30 p. m.

ville, will occupy the pulpit at the First Presbyterian church at the morning services Sunday and also Sunday afternoon. A congregational meeting will be held after the morning services.

Church: The pastor, Rev. George O. Bachman, will preach on Sunday morning on "The People's Prayer" and at night on "Phillip and the Eu-nuch."

Evangelical church.

UNIQUE SUIT.

WOMAN SUES SIX SALOON KEEP-ERS FOR CAUSING HUS-BAND'S DOWNFALL.

Carbondale, Ill., March 26—Judge F. M. Youngblood of this city has entered suit in Perry county against six saloon keepers of Pinckneyville and DuBois for $10,000 damages.

The case is brought in behalf of Mrs. John Corgan and her two children, owing to the imprisonment of her husband, John Corgan, in the Chester penitentiary for 14 years for manslaughter. Mrs. Corgan alleges that the selling of liquor to her husband has deprived her and her children of their visible means of support and therefore asks damages.

Corgan killed Charles Smith while in a drunken frenzy in Pinckneyville in December, 1902.

SPECIAL AGENT

DETECTIVE DINEEN HAS BEEN

stealing.

He has been working on the robbery of the railroad and express agent, Mr. O. L. Laymon, at Carlelan, a week ago, in which $200 was taken, but has not arrested anyone yet. The agent sufficiently recovered in the

THE PEANUT INDUSTRY.

A Crop Which is of Great Importance to the Farming World.

More than 60,000,000 bushels of American grown peanuts are consumed annually in the United States involving more than $15,000,000 annually in the industry. The demand for this nut has increased so greatly in past years that the importation from Japan and Africa has almost equaled the American crop while the American cleaners cannot supply export demand except for extremely low grade stock, which is sent to France and Germany and there made into Olive Oil. The peanut will thrive in any soil or latitude where Indian corn will grow. Virginia takes the lead in the peanut industry; they having twenty-three factories in the belt with a total capacity of about 8,000,000 bushels. There are four Western cleaners which are distributed as follows: St. Louis two; Nashville one; Paducah one. These four factories get about fifty per cent of their stock from Tennessee and are forced to go to Atlantic Sea Board for the balance of their supply.

The finest peanut grown is known as the "bunch variety," the name being gathered from the fact that the vine "bunches up" instead of being a running vine as the original Virginia or Tennessee nut. When a crop is reasonably well cared for the average yield per acre is from 90 to 125 bushels, or 2070 to 2,875 pounds with a value to the farmer of from 3 to 5 1/2 per pound, according to quality, therefore making it a much better crop than tobacco. In the successful raising of peanuts the absolute essentials are to keep the fields free from grass and weeds, and the soil loose and the nuts will take care of themselves. They are planted in this latitude from the first of April to about the 15th and mature the latter part of October to the 10th of November, during which period they are dug and thoroughly dried before sacking. As soon as sacked they are brought in to the cleaner who classes, weighs, and pays for them on the spot.

The writer of this article has been closely associated with the peanut business all of his life and has seen the demand and prices increase from year to year, and believes that within the next few years peanuts will become as much a staple as tobacco or corn. They are essentially a southern product and will be a factor in the future agricultural development of the southern states. With the present stagnation in the tobacco market, for which there is no apparent end, it would be well for the farmers of Western Kentucky to interest themselves in the culture of peanuts as they have all conditions in their favor both for the raising and marketing of their crops.

The Southern Peanut Company is the name of the local handlers of this great nut. The business has been in existence twelve years, but was only incorporated a year ago. The company has a factory at 205-207 Jefferson street just now, but will soon remove to part of the Three Rivers Milling plant, at Second and Washington streets, for better shipping facilities. The company is doing a business which is one of the largest of its kind in the State, and with their complete and modern facilities turn out an immense quantity of marketable peanuts assorted and polished with the greatest skill. They have at present ten brands familiar to the trade throughout the large territory they cover, and dealers who have handled them are enthusiastic. The finest of Fancy Virginia, White Tennessee, Fancy Reds are among the grades they deal in, but the company hopes to trouble this number during the year.

The official board of the Southern Peanut Company is composed of John W. Scott, who is President, Treasurer and general manager; Cook Husbands vice president, and W. F. Bradshaw, Jr. Secretary.

CURED CONSUMPTION.

Mrs. B. W. Evans, Charwater, Kan., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup and it cured him. That was six years ago and since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We can not do without it. For coughs and colds it has no equal." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Du Bois Kolb & Co., Paducah, Ky.

FIRE IN GRAVES.

Mayfield, Ky., March 26.—The residence of Frank Clapp, 5 miles west of the city, burned and the family barely escaped with their lives. The house and contents were valued at $1,000. There was $600 insurance.

The Gentleman From Indiana

"But I ought to be for hurting you. Indeed?"

She laughed sadly again. "It wasn't that. I don't care what you call me. I am small. You'll try to forgive me for being such a baby? I didn't mean anything I said. I haven't acted so badly since I was a child."

"It's my fault, all of it. I've tired you out, and I let you get crushed at the circus, and—"

"That!" she said. "I don't think I would have missed the circus."

He had a thrilling hope that she meant the tent pole. She looked as if she meant that, but he dared not let himself believe it.

"No," he continued, "I have been so madly happy in being with you that I've fairly worn out your patience. I've haunted you all day, and I have—"

"All that has nothing to do with it," she said, with a gentle motion of her hand to bid him listen. "Just after you left this afternoon I found that I could not stay here. My people are going abroad at once, and I must go with them. That's what is almost making me cry. I leave here tomorrow morning."

He felt something strike at his heart. In the sudden sense of death he had no astonishment that she should betray such agitation over her departure from a place she had known so little and friends who certainly were not part of her life. He rose to his feet, and, resting his arm against a sycamore, stood staring away from her at nothing. She did not move. There was a long silence. He had awakened suddenly. The skies had been sapphire, the sward emerald, Plattville a Camelot of romance, a city of enchantment, and now, like a meteor burned out in a breath, the necromancy fell away and he gazed into desolate years.

The thought of the square, his dusty office, the bleak length of Main street, as they would appear tomorrow gave him a faint physical sickness. Today it had all been touched to beauty. He had felt fit to live and work here a thousand years—a fool's dream, and the waking was to a cold emptiness. He should die now of hunger and thirst in this Sahara. He hoped the gates would let it be soon, but he knew they would not; knew that this was hysteria, that in his endurance he should plod on, plod, plod, dustily on, through dingy, lonely years.

There was a rumble of thunder far out on the western prairie. A cold breath stole through the hot stillness, and an arm of vapor reached out between the moon and the quiet earth. Darkness fell. The man and girl kept silence between them. They might have been two sad guardians of the black little stream that plashed unseen at their feet. Now and then a reflection of faraway lightning faintly limned them with a green light. Thunder rolled nearer, ominously. The gods were driving their chariots over the bridge. The chill breath passed, leaving the air again to its hot inertia.

"I did not want to go," she said at last, with tears just below the surface of her voice. "I wanted to stay here, but he—they wouldn't—I can't!"

"Wanted to stay here?" he said huskily, not turning. "Here? In Indiana?"

"Yes."

"In Rouen, you mean?"

"In Plattville."

"In Plattville!" He turned now, astounded.

"Yes. Wouldn't you have taken me on the Herald?" She rose and came toward him. "I could have supported myself here if you would, and I've studied how newspapers are made. I know I could have earned a wage. I could have helped you make it a ditty." He searched in vain for a trace of railery in her voice. There was none. She seemed to intend her words to be taken literally.

"I don't understand," he said. "I don't know what you mean."

"I mean that I want to stay here; that I ought to stay here; that my

"your conscience!" he cried.

"Oh, I know what a jumble and puzzle it must seem to you!"

"I only know one thing—that you are going away tomorrow morning and that I shall never see you again."

The darkness had grown intense. They could not see each other, but a wan glimmer gave him a fleeting, misty view of her. She stood half turned from him, her hand to her cheek in the uncertain fashion of his great moment in the afternoon. Her eyes, he saw in the flying picture that he caught, were troubled, and her hand trembled. She had been irresistible in her gaiety, but now that a mysterious distress assailed her, of the reason for which he had no guess, she was so adorably pathetic and seemed such a rich and lovely and sad and happy thing to have come into his life only to go out of it, and he was so full of the prophetic sense of loss of her, it seemed so much like losing everything, that he found too much to say to be able to say anything.

He tried to speak and choked a little. A big drop of rain fell on his bare head. Neither of them noticed the weather or cared for it. They stood with the renewed blackness hanging like a drapery between them.

"Can—can you—tell me why you think you ought not to go?" he whispered finally with a great effort.

"No; not now. But I know you would think I am right in wanting to stay. I know you would if you knew about it; but I can't, I can't. I must go in the morning."

"I should always think you right," he answered in an unsteady tone, "always." He went over to the bench, fumbled about for his hat and picked it up.

"Come," he said gently, "I am going now."

She stood quite motionless for a full minute or longer; then, without a word, she moved toward the house. He went to her, with hands extended to find her, and his fingers touched her sleeve. Together and silently they found the garden path and followed its dim length. In the orchard he touched her sleeve again and led the way.

THE FOWLER-WOLFE

SHEET METAL WORKS.

An Industry Which Does All Manner of Sheetiron and Copper Work.

This energetic firm was organized in December, 1901, with Mr. S. A. Fowler, as President, Mr. E. C. Wolfe, Manager, and W. I. Wolfe, Secretary and Treasurer. Their first place of business was at 216 Court street, where they conducted their sheet metal establishment, but owing to the increasing demand of their trade and the enlargement of their plant they had constructed for them especially two large handsome buildings on lower Broadway, being numbers 110 and 112, where they have installed the latest and most improved machinery for the working and handling of all kinds of sheet metal. They also make a specialty of roofing, slate, tin and composition, and keep on hand a full stock of these materials. During the past year they secured the contract for the entire roof and structural work of the new edition to the government building and post office, which is the largest and most expensive roofing contract ever let in the city. They also do all kinds of mill piping, and have recently installed in the Rex Manufacturing Co.'s large plant also the Mergenthaler & Basket Co. their entire system of piping. They also do about all of the steamboat work done in this part of the country, making smokestacks, breechings, flame beds and everything of metal used on a boat or in a mill. They have recently leased the large vacant lot in the rear of their Broadway plant where they have built a large boiler shop, installing the latest boiler steel working machinery, and they are now ready to do all kinds of boiler work, both new work and repair, having in their employ the best of experienced workmen. We might also add that they have the exclusive agency of the Paragon Hot Air and Water Heating Furnace, which is the recognized furnace for heating houses and large buildings. They have placed these in the following handsome homes of the city: Mr. Geo. C. Wallace, Dr. J. T. Reddick, the First Presbyterian church, Mrs. L. S. Fowler and others, and refer by permission to any of them as to their complete satisfaction. They employ only first class workmen and guarantee satisfaction.

Theatrical Notes.

Next week's attractions will be: "The Glick & Bowman" National Stock Co., all the week, except Friday night.

Friday night, Jules Murray's big scenic production of Lost River.

"Lost River," Joseph Arthur's latest big success, which comes to The Kentucky Friday night, owes much to the strongly marked contrasting characters of the play, which accentuate and throw into high relief the peculiarities of many of the smaller characters, as in the case of Ezra Cookus, the bus driver and leader of the Hoosier "orchestra," whose broad comedy scenes produce roars of laughter, greatly due, perhaps, to the gloom and viciousness of Bill Loucks, a finely drawn but hideous character. Bill is one of the men who are reeking with the desire to be bad, not so much because he has a special grievance against anyone but because he has a happier time while surfeited with viciousness than could be possible under other circumstances. Ora, the heroine, is an artless, winning little country girl full of grit and desperately in love with a stalwart young New Yorker, Bob Blessing, far above her in social station. But "love levels all ranks and lays the shepherd's crook beside the sceptre" and Bob, forgetful of his New York fiancée, falls in love with the illiterate little Hoosier and tells her so. The pathos and tenderness of these love scenes and the interspersed scenes of the rural inhabitants, whose native wit and humor are ludicrous in the extreme, are strongly in contrast with the thrilling scene in which the little heroine mounts her wheel and riding at full speed in pursuit of the would be assassin of her lover, wounds him and saves the latter's life.

The Glick and Bannon National Stock Co., which opens a week's engagement at The Kentucky Monday night in the great sensational comedy drama, "Falsely Accused," has been touring the large southern cities all winter giving universal satisfaction. All the plays presented by this company are standard plays of reputation and are correctly costumed in every detail. A strong feature of this company is the excellent line of specialties introduced between acts. There will be a good specialty between every act of every play.

"The opening play, Falsely Accused," is one of those plays that are brim full of bright sparkling comedy, which in no way detracts from the plot which is really pathetic. The climaxes are all highly dramatic with scenes of the most intense excitement leading up to them. In fact, Falsely Accused is one of those plays that suit the vast majority of the theater going public, and the audience leaves the theater satisfied and thoughtful of the beautiful production just witnessed.

Ladies admitted free Monday night under the usual conditions.

Eight bells was witnessed by a fairly large and well pleased audience at the Kentucky theater last night. Considering the inclement weather it was quite a flattering audience. The show is excellent and deserved a crowded house.

The Great Monday Carnival company, which is to furnish the attractions for the carnival here this spring, opened a few days ago at San Antonio, Tex., and received fine notices from the Texas papers.

POST A MEETS

ELECTION OF OFFICERS TAKES PLACE HERE APRIL 2.

Post A, the local post of the T. P. A., will meet Saturday April 2 and elect officers for the next year and will in addition appoint delegates to the state convention which will be held in Louisville on May 7th.

There is little talk among the drummers as to who will be elected to the offices, as the drummers have been so busy of late with the spring trade that little thought is given the interests of the post.

Mr. Louis Kolb, secretary of the local post, stated this morning that the membership here was growing rapidly and numbered about two hundred and fifty, a remarkable membership for the post. Paducah is a favorite city with traveling men and all who can conveniently join at Paducah, do so.

The Mary Hill is towing for the Paducah Cooperage company and is due to go into Duck river today after timber.

ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENT HERE.

Mr. E. Parsons, assistant superintendent of telegraphy of the I. C., was in the city today on business. He went to Louisville at noon today.
